Classical music fills the air in aid of animals...

On Sunday 28 March, The Nut Point Centre proprietor John Allan held a fundraiser for SPCA Canterbury. A beautiful afternoon of classical music was enjoyed by those who attended the Classical Escape Concert at the West Melton art centre. The concert was performed by musicians Oleg Kotorovych and Iryna Lonenko on the violin, and Iryna Maksymova on the piano. The Russley Golf Club donated the lunch and Johnson & Couzins Hire donated the hire of the glasses.

A big thank you to John, who tirelessly organised the afternoon and raised $1,400 for the animal centre. This is the third year John has run a fundraiser for the SPCA.

When John adopted Bob, a homeless dog, from the SPCA Canterbury a new relationship was born. Not only did John get companionship from Bob but he felt compelled to raise funds to help other animals in the care of the SPCA. The Nutpoint Centre SPCA Fundraiser was born, and is now in its third consecutive year.

John says the event is organised as a true charity with no expenses deducted and is a welcome addition to the charity, art and music activities already happening at the Nutpoint Centre. To find out about other events at The Nutpoint Centre, visit: www.nutpointgallery.com
